

PureGreen24, First Green Disinfectant to Receive Green Clean Institute Certification

New York, NY March 24, 2008 -- Pure Green, LLC today announces that PureGreen24, the first "green" surface disinfectant registered with the Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), is now recognized by the Green Clean Institute as a recommended product for use by Green Clean Institute Certified janitorial service providers. PureGreen24 offers superior efficacy by killing Methicillin resistant Staphylococcus (Staph) aureus (MRSA) within two minutes of contact.

Your Only Disinfectant Choice to Meet Green Cleaning Mandates

David Stetson Pure Green LLC co-founder stated, "It is gratifying that organizations, now including Green Clean Institute, have recognized the advantages of using PureGreen24 at schools, offices and governmental buildings. PureGreen24 has the lowest toxicity rating granted by the EPA and provides a unique 24hr residual kill against Staph." Michael Richmond Green Clean Institute co-founder, stated, "We were pleased to finally find a disinfectant that is both effective against bacterial threats such as MRSA and does not expose our janitors, or their customers, to dangerous or toxic chemicals. PureGreen24 is a ideal disinfectant for a number of application areas including cafeterias, athletic facilities, break rooms and general common areas."

PureGreen24's Advantages

PureGreen24 kills the most deadly of superbugs, yet also kills everyday household germs. PureGreen24's advantages include: fastest bacterial/ viral/ fungal kill times, 24 hour residual protection against Staph and EPA registration for use on sports equipment and children's toys (no rinsing required). PureGreen24 can be applied in the presence of humans and animals, meets School System and Office Building Green standards and is manufactured and bottled in the USA.
